

If you sell or lease commercial properties, why not let JHampton Photography capture your properties at their best and provide a place for you to showcase them on the web for viewing by unlimited potential clients.

Quality photos that highlight the best, most desirable features of a property can go a long way to enhance your sales efforts.

By making these photos available online in an attractive, professional web gallery, you can extend your sales force without adding a single person to your payroll. Multiple photographs of various views, along with your sales message and detailed descriptions of each property's features and benefits can help to free up more of your agents' valuable time by allowing your potential clients to peruse available properties and have their initial questions answered on their own time.

Professional Photography

The quality of the photos you use to promote your commercial property really does matter. A poorly composed or fuzzy photo snapped by an amateur is not an effective sales tool and can even have a negative impact. Because your potential clients are business people, it is important to project a professional image, both in the presentation and quality of the photos used. JHampton understands this and is committed to delivering the highest level of quality.

John Hampton, founder and owner of JHampton Photography, has over 35 years of experience in film and digital photography. His exquisite photos have been published in numerous newspapers and magazines.

Our equipment and our services are state-of-the-art. We use all digital, professional grade Canon® cameras and lenses, and we also have extensive in-house photo enhancement and retouching capabilities. Even under adverse weather and lighting conditions, you can count on JHampton Photography to make your property look its absolute best.

Web Galleries

In addition to professional photography, JHampton provides interactive web galleries to allow quick and easy viewing of all your available properties online. This is a convenient, less time-consuming alternative to answering questions on the phone or walking potential clients through each and every available property. It also costs less and allows for more photos and more information than printed flyers. Potential clients can instead peruse photos and details of each property on the web on their own time. They can use their own criteria to narrow their choices and contact you directly to set up an appointment.

This service includes:

- A selection of up to 50 professional photographs of each property, depending upon property size.
- A branded 'home page' for your company with your logo, sales message, contact information, direct link to your web site, etc.
- A separate gallery for each property featuring optimized thumbnail images linked to larger views, informative descriptions, and a MapQuest link to a map and directions.
